KINGS PARK PRIMARY SCHOOL—One of Australia's 'top-performing' Schools.

Our school has received some extremely positive media attention in recent weeks featuring in both the Australian Newspaper and on the ABC Radio. In a recent study, conducted by the Centre for Independent Studies, Kings Park PS has been identified as one of Australia's top-performing low socioeconomic schools.

The study identified that Kings Park PS performed well in comparison to results from previous years and in comparison to 'similar' schools. We also compared well against all Australian schools as measured by our NAPLAN Reading and Numeracy results.

I would like to extend my thanks and congratulations to our entire school community on this achievement. High levels of achievement in student reading and numeracy of this magnitude is significant and worthy of celebrating and acknowledging.

The full report 'Overcoming the Odds: A study of Australia's top performing disadvantaged schools' by Blaise Joseph and the related news articles can be found on our school website.

Congratulations to all!
